COMMUNICATIONS

From the Editors

Joseph and Maria Shaw are retiring from the University of Toronto, and the university is apparently not planning to replace them. Current students have mounted a campaign to preserve the Aegean Bronze Age Studies program at the University of Toronto. All who are interested are encouraged to write hardcopy letters to the appropriate university officials. The students have created a web site to monitor the situation; it is regularly updated and has the addresses of the university officials. The web site can be found at: <http://www.chass.utoronto.ca/~schlesin/abaa.html>. All help in this campaign is highly appreciated.
